

Be A Responsible Boater

- Don't raft up with other boats
- Don't congregate on sandbars or beaches
- Limit passengers to members of your household

Be A Responsible Boater Getting out on the water to fish or cruise offers much-needed relief during COVID-19 social distancing, and while most lawmakers have no wish to restrict those activities, irresponsible behavior threatens to ruin time on the water for our entire boating community.

YOU are the key to keeping boat ramps, fuel docks and marine service businesses open when we need them most. Following a few simple rules will help keep us safe and allow us to enjoy our boats while adhering to CDC Guidelines.

Thank you for doing your part to help prevent the spread of the virus and the closure of our boat ramps.
